Active and passive voice pdf test

Instructions: A sentence was issued in active/passive audio in the following question. Choose the one of the four suggested alternatives that best expresses the same sentence in Passive/Active Voice. In this active and passive audio quiz, you get 10 active voice-overs and you need to turn them into passive sound. Remember that in order to make a passive voice, we make the subject of the sentence subject, add the correct form of the verb to be, and change the verb of the past adjective yesyear. Sometimes you'll move the subject to the end of the sentence, adding the word by, although you often skip that when it's clear who's doing the action. Here's an example: Peter faxes over the document (active)The document is faxed to Peter (passive) Show / Hide the Answers Home &gt; grammar quizzes &gt; active and passive audio quiz registration free grammar tips for your inbox! All questions – 10Max Time – 10 minutes Active sentences vs passive sentences When A is not B, there are two possible ways to talk about it: active or passive. In active sentences, A is the subject (before the verb). In passive sentences, the theme is B. Check the following examples: Someone cleaned the classroom yesterday. (Active) The classroom was cleaned every day. (Passive) As you can see, the subject of the active sentence is the subject of a passive sentence. Learn how to create passive in different verb times. When do we use passive? Passive is more formal than active and more common in written language. We often use passive when we don't know if it's obvious or if we don't want to be so telling out or what's responsible for the action. A bank was robbed yesterday. (We don't know who robbed the bank.) The robber was arrested last night. (Obviously, the police arrested the robber.) They said you insulted my brother. (I don't want to tell you who told me.) Jurassic Park was filmed by Spielberg in 1993. (I'm talking about Jurassic Park and not Spielberg.) Passive voice is very common in news and official writing. Arsenal have already beaten 3–0 and are now in 4th. The British Embassy in Israel was destroyed by an earthquake. Catalan elections will be held next September. Passive voice + by We can use it to tell you who or what is responsible for the action. The painting was bought by a very wealthy American. Penicillin was invented by Alexander Fleming.
